WEBCODER-IT
- I have successfully completed professional web development training from WebCoder-IT, one of the reputed online IT training platforms in Bangladesh. This course has equipped me with both theoretical knowledge and real-life project experience. During the training, I worked on several hands-on projects that helped me understand real-world coding standards, team collaboration, and client-focused solutions. The mentorship, feedback, and support from WebCoder-IT have played a vital role in shaping my journey as a professional web developer.
